

To those who gave their lives in the service of peace while on mission for the United Nations. When we improve upon their efforts to secure the peace, we honour their sacrifice.